What we may lack in size is more than equalled in individuality and charm. Timber House, the smaller sister of the nearby Krabi Resort offers delightful accommodation at exceptional value. Guest may enjoy an intimate ambience amid the perfect tropical holiday base from which to enjoy Thailand at its best and experience the delights, entertainments and natural wonders of the Andaman.

Ao Nang Beach, the magnificent towering limestone karsts honeycombed with caves and cinematically sought-after seascape that is simply breathtaking is a photographer's or sun seeker's picture book paradise come true. Now the Timber House delights in offering you an attractively comfortable and affordable option to put yourself into the centre of this picture of tropical perfection.

With only 48-rooms split into three categories to suite individual, couple or family requirements, guest may enjoy an endearingly intimate character and feel to the resort plus an enhanced level of personal service. A calmer ambience poolside and in the guest areas than may be experienced at larger resorts, complimented by the simplistic airiness of the accommodations, provide the perfect contrast to the vibrant local shops and entertainments to be found close to hand.

The minimalist approach to the interior design of the accommodations is softened with Thai touches sensitively complementing the lush landscaped setting. All modern conveniences and amenities more than address the practicalities and expectations of pampering plus hospitality excellence that visitors to Thailand's world renowned hotels and resorts have come to expect.
